

Lab Safety Bell Work – Teacher Edition

Multiple Choice – Select the best answer

1. What is the function of a wire gauze mat?
 - a) To support a beaker or flask while heating over a Bunsen burner
 - b) As a strainer to separate particles out of a liquid
 - c) To help with even heat distribution as the burner flame passes through
 - d) Both a & c

2. True or False:

The best equipment for measuring a volume of solution is a conical flask.

3. Name this piece of lab equipment.

- a) Spot plate
- b) Testing plate
- c) Well plate
- d) Lab plate

4. True or False:

A graduated cylinder is used to measure the mass of an object

5. A hot plate is used when:

- a) You need to leave your heat source unattended.
- b) An extremely high temperature is not needed to heat a substance.
- c) Using a plastic beaker.
- d) An extremely high temperature is needed to heat a substance.

Lab Safety Bell Work – Teacher Edition

ANSWERS

Multiple Choice – Select the best answer

1. What is the function of a wire gauze mat?
 - a) To support a beaker or flask while heating over a Bunsen burner
 - b) As a strainer to separate particles out of a liquid
 - c) To help with even heat distribution as the burner flame passes through
 - d) Both a & c

2. True or False:

The best equipment for measuring a volume of solution is a conical flask.

False

3. Name this piece of lab equipment.

- a) Spot plate
- b) Testing plate
- c) Well plate
- d) Lab plate

4. True or False:

A graduated cylinder is used to measure the mass of an object

False

5. A hot plate is used when:

- a) You need to leave your heat source unattended.
- b) An extremely high temperature is not needed to heat a substance.
- c) Using a plastic beaker.
- d) An extremely high temperature is needed to heat a substance.